

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

1	permeate	spread or diffuse through	The scent of fresh bread began to permeate the entire house.
2	discord	disagreement	Disputes over money caused intense discord in the family.
3	elude	to evade, escape	Despite an intense search, the robber continues to elude the police.
4	vindicate	show to be right by providing justification or proof	He hoped to vindicate his actions in front of the court.
5	buttress	to support, hold up	The column buttresses the roof above the statue.
6	desecrate	to violate the sacredness of a thing or place	They feared that the construction of a golf course would desecrate the preserved wilderness.
7	mundane	found in the ordinary course of events	His everyday tasks felt mundane and repetitive.
8	obliterated	Destroy Completely	The tidal wave obliterated several island villages.
9	inchoate	only partly in existence; imperfectly formed	The inchoate plan was not fully developed and lacked clarity.
10	lethal	of an instrument of certain death	The lethal dose of poison was enough to kill the animal instantly.
11	terse	brief and to the point	His terse response indicated his impatience.
12	deviate	To differ from the norm.	I decided to deviate from my normal route home and took a shortcut.
13	countenance	the appearance conveyed by a person's face	His countenance revealed a deep sense of concern for his friend.
14	relegate	assign to a lower position	He was relegated to a minor position after his performance declined.
15	prudent	marked by sound judgment	It is prudent to save money for unexpected expenses.
16	contend	to maintain or assert (an opinion)	The president contends that the US government will not negotiate with terrorists.
17	fortitude	strength, guts	Achilles' fortitude in battle is legendary.
18	embellish	make more attractive, as by adding ornament or color	The artist decided to embellish his work with bright colors.
19	agile	quick, nimble	The dogs were too slow to catch the agile rabbit.
20	debunk	to expose the falseness of something	He debunked her claim to be the world's greatest chess player by defeating her in 18 consecutive matches.
21	revoke	to take back	After missing the curfew set by the court for eight nights in a row, Marcel's freedom of movement was revoked.
22	irate	feeling or showing extreme anger	The irate customer demanded to speak to the manager.
23	utilitarian	relating to or aiming at usefulness	The beautiful, fragile vase couldn't hold flowers or serve any other utilitarian purpose.
24	debilitate	make weak	His illness began to debilitate him, making it hard to get out of bed.
25	bureaucratic	Related to a large organization with a lot of complicated procedures	Before I could speak with the chief, I had to go through a bureaucratic runaround of identity checks and written requests.
26	exhilarating	invigorating, stimulating, or exciting	The music playing at the club was catchy and exhilarating.
27	pesky	causing irritation or annoyance	The pesky mosquitoes made it impossible to sleep peacefully.
28	commission	the use of payment to request something (e	This painting was commissioned by a rich merchant in 1589.
29	apathy	an absence of emotion or enthusiasm	His apathy toward the issue made it difficult to engage him in discussion.
30	defer	to postpone something; to yield to another's wisdom	Ron deferred to Diane, the expert on musical instruments, when he was asked about buying a piano.
31	capricious	determined by chance or impulse rather than by necessity	His capricious behavior made it hard to predict what he would do next.
32	idiosyncratic	peculiar to one person; highly individualized	I know you had trouble with the last test, but because your mistakes were highly idiosyncratic, I'm going to deny your request that the class be given a new test.
33	nefarious	extremely wicked	The criminal's nefarious activities led to his eventual arrest.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

34	stupefy	to astonish, make insensible	Veronica's audacity and ungratefulness stupefied her best friend, Heather.
35	stereotype	a conventional or formulaic conception or image	The stereotype of the "lazy teenager" is harmful and inaccurate.
36	peremptory	putting an end to all debate or action	His peremptory tone left no room for discussion.
37	arbitrary	based on or subject to individual discretion or preference	His decision to cancel the meeting seemed arbitrary and unfair.
38	satiated	satisfied (usu in hunger)	I felt satiated after eating a snack.
39	insatiable	impossible to fulfill, appease, or gratify	She had an insatiable hunger for adventure and excitement.
40	viability	ability to be done in a practical or useful way	The viability of the solution is questionable.
41	safeguard	To protect	A burglar-alarm system safeguards our house when we go away on vacation.
42	prevalent	most frequent or common	The prevalent opinion was that the project would succeed.
43	credulity	readiness to believe	His credulity made him an easy target for con men.
44	vacillate	be undecided about something	He began to vacillate between staying and leaving the party.
45	chronologically	In order according to time	Allen's book is arranged chronologically, from the First Crusade in 1095 to the fall of Granada in 1492.
46	discreet	marked by prudence or modesty and wise self-restraint	She was discreet in her actions, always careful not to draw attention.
47	proliferation	An increase in the number of something and in the number of places it can be found	The proliferation of fast-food restaurants has made it harder for Americans to eat healthy lunches.
48	utopia	ideally perfect state	The perfect utopia is an ideal society where everything is in harmony.
49	confront	oppose, as in hostility or a competition	They decided to confront the issue directly rather than avoid it.
50	corrode	To be slowly weakened by chemical reactions	Sitting in salt water, the old coins corroded and became very easy to break.
51	inanimate	not endowed with life	The inanimate objects in the room seemed to take on a life of their own.
52	hedonist	one who believes pleasure should be the primary pursuit of humans	Because he's such a hedonist, I knew Murray would appreciate the 11 cases of wine I bought him for his birthday.
53	omnivorous	feeding on both plants and animals	The omnivorous animals ate both plants and meat.
54	phobia	an anxiety disorder characterized by irrational fear	He had a phobia of spiders, which prevented him from going outside.
55	colloquial	characteristic of informal conversation	Adam's essay on sexual response in primates was marked down because it contained too many colloquial expressions.
56	depicted	Represent Using Words Or A Picture	Some newspaper accounts depicted the movie star as a reclusive prima donna; others portrayed her as a sensitive artist harassed by the media.
57	flourish	to prosper, grow, or make fast progress	After one year, the tiny plants had flourished into a breathtaking garden.
58	divine	godly, exceedingly wonderful	Terribly fond of desserts, she found the rich chocolate cake to be divine.
59	industrious	Willing to work hard	The Dutch settlements in Ottawa County were founded by industrious farmers who objected to frivolous behavior such as dancing.
60	decay	To decline in health or excellence.	After the tree died, its wood began to decay.
61	plunge	To go down suddenly; to decrease by a great amount in a short time	He jumped off the diving board and plunged into the pool.
62	genial	friendly, affable	Although he's been known to behave like a real jerk, I would say that my brother is an overall genial guy.
63	antiquated	so extremely old as seeming to belong to an earlier period	The building was full of antiquated furniture that seemed out of place.
64	subservient	compliant and obedient to authority	The subservient employee always did what he was told without question.
65	dormant	inactive but capable of becoming active	The volcano had been dormant for centuries, but now it was showing signs of activity.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

66	intimation	an indirect suggestion	Mr. Brinford's intimation that he would soon pass away occurred when he began to discuss how to distribute his belongings among his children.
67	bittersweet	tinged with a feeling of sadness	The ending of the romance movie was bittersweet.
68	induce	to bring about, stimulate	Who knew that our decision to boycott school lunch would induce a huge riot?
69	coalition	A group of several different groups or countries that are working together to achieve a certain goal	Several local churches, mosques, synagogues, and temples formed a coalition to promote understanding among people of different religions.
70	audacity	aggressive or outright boldness	He had the audacity to question the decision in front of the whole team.
71	censure	harsh criticism	The frustrated teenager could not put up with anymore of her critical mother's censure.
72	bigot	a prejudiced person who is intolerant of differing opinions	He was a bigot, refusing to accept any viewpoint other than his own.
73	artifact	a man-made object	The artifact was carefully preserved in the museum for future generations.
74	deferential	showing respect for another's authority	His deferential attitude toward her made her more confident in her ability to run the company.
75	predilection	a preference or inclination for something	Francois has a predilection for eating scrambled eggs with ketchup, though I prefer to eat eggs without any condiments.
76	juxtapose	place side by side	He was careful to juxtapose the two conflicting theories in his essay.
77	conceive	to imagine or come up with	The plan to build the city was originally conceived in the early 1900s.
78	appease	to calm, satisfy	When the child cries, the mother gives him candy to appease him.
79	brazen	excessively bold, brash	Critics condemned the novelist's brazen attempt to plagiarize Hemingway's story.
80	commodity	A thing that can be bought and sold, such as grain, oil, or wood	Tulip bulbs were one of the most valuable commodities in seventeenth-century Holland.
81	apprehension	fearful expectation of something	Her apprehension to leave her house resulted in her missing the train.
82	voracious	devouring or craving food in great quantities	She had a voracious appetite for books, reading one every day.
83	gregarious	temperamentally seeking and enjoying the company of others	He was a gregarious individual, always surrounded by friends and laughter.
84	fabricate	put together out of artificial or natural components	The artist fabricated a story about the origins of his artwork.
85	affable	friendly, amiable	People like to be around George because he is so affable and good-natured.
86	flamboyant	tending to attract attention; marked by ostentatious display	His flamboyant personality made him the center of attention at parties.
87	fallacious	containing or based on incorrect reasoning	His argument was fallacious, based on false premises and assumptions.
88	introspective	given to examining own sensory and perceptual experiences	She was introspective, often reflecting on her thoughts and feelings.
89	ascend	travel up	The hikers began to ascend the mountain at dawn.
90	pretense	an appearance or action intended to deceive	Though he actually wanted to use his parents' car to go on a date, Nick borrowed his parents' car under the pretense of attending a group study session.
91	lament	to feel sorrow for; to mourn	Susan lamented her missed chance at going to Europe with her high school class.
92	zeal	Enthusiasm; a deep determination to do well	Unfortunately, Tom's zeal to become a rock star distracted him from his studies.
93	neurotic	affected by worry due to a mental disturbance	His neurotic behavior made it difficult to form stable relationships.
94	clique	an exclusive circle of people with a common purpose	The clique of friends always sat together at lunch.
95	advent	arrival that has been awaited	The advent of the internet changed the way we communicate.
96	indiscriminately	randomly; with little or no distinction	Lottery winners are chosen indiscriminately.
97	lax	without rigor or strictness	The lax security measures allowed unauthorized access to the building.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

98	amateurish	Not good enough to be the work of professionals	Whoever painted this room did an amateurish job, with all sorts of uneven edges.
99	fulsome	unpleasantly and excessively suave or ingratiating	His fulsome praise of the actor seemed insincere.
100	aversion	a feeling of intense dislike	His aversion to public speaking was well-known among his colleagues.
101	tantalize	harass with persistent teasing or baiting	The magician tried to tantalize the audience with a series of tricks.
102	disseminate	cause to become widely known	The news spread rapidly as the organization worked to disseminate it worldwide.
103	malnutrition	a state of poor nourishment	The children suffered from malnutrition due to the lack of food.
104	aberration	something that differs from the norm	In 1918, the Boston Red Sox won the World Series, but the success turned out to be an aberration, and the Red Sox have not won a World Series since.
105	nonchalant	having a lack of concern, indifference	Although deep down she was very angry, Marsha acted in a nonchalant manner when she found out that her best friend had used her clothing without asking.
106	reminiscence	A Memory Or Story About The Past	His reminiscences of his early days in Washington caused him to be filled with happiness.
107	deplete	to (over)use over time (usu	The lost campers quickly depleted their supply of food.
108	nullify	declare invalid	The new law sought to nullify the previous legislation.
109	confound	to frustrate, confuse	MacGuyver confounded the policemen pursuing him by covering his tracks.
110	aloof	distant, cold, or detached in manner	She remained aloof, not participating in any of the conversations.
111	ingenious	clever, resourceful	Her ingenious use of walnuts instead of the peanuts called for by the recipe was lauded by the other garden club members who found her cake delicious.
112	imply	To strongly suggest.	My mother implied that I was the one who forgot to take out the trash.
113	sedentary	requiring sitting or little activity	The sedentary lifestyle contributed to his weight gain.
114	acrimonious	marked by strong resentment or cynicism	The debate became acrimonious, with both sides exchanging insults.
115	smuggle	To illegally bring things into a country	The pirate Ben Dewar smuggled guns to British and Indian fighters in North America.
116	malleable	capable of being shaped or bent	The metal was malleable and could easily be shaped into different forms.
117	complacency	self-satisfied ignorance of danger	Colin tried to shock his friends out of their complacency by painting a frightening picture of what might happen to them.
118	revere	regard with feelings of respect	They revere their ancestors and celebrate their traditions each year.
119	hegemony	domination over others	Britain's hegemony over its colonies was threatened once nationalist sentiment began to spread around the world.
120	alleged	doubtful or suspect	The alleged thief was brought before the court for questioning.
121	anarchist	one who wants to eliminate all government	An anarchist, Carmine wanted to dissolve every government everywhere.
122	asset	a useful or valuable quality	The company's greatest asset was its loyal customer base.
123	sanction	official permission or approval	The government may sanction the use of force to stop the rebellion.
124	stagnant	not growing or changing; without force or vitality	The stagnant water in the pond became a breeding ground for mosquitoes.
125	beseech	to beg, plead, implore	The servant beseeched the king for food to feed his starving family.
126	profuse	produced or growing in extreme abundance	The professor gave a profuse amount of information during the lecture.
127	invasive	Aggressively entering into someone else's territory	Surgery with a laser is less invasive than surgery with a knife or scalpel.
128	impetuous	characterized by undue haste and lack of thought	The impetuous decision led to unexpected consequences.
129	impromptu	with little or no preparation or forethought	The impromptu performance by the band was surprisingly good.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

130	lag	To fall behind.	I stayed with the front group of runners for the first few miles, but after that I began to lag.
131	adventent	giving attention	She was advertent to the details during the meeting.
132	intervene	To come between	A good mediator intervenes only as much as necessary to settle a dispute between other parties.
133	cogent	powerfully persuasive	The lawyer presented a cogent argument that swayed the jury.
134	burgeon	grow and flourish	The plants began to burgeon as the spring rains arrived.
135	pernicious	exceedingly harmful	Smoking has a pernicious effect on your health.
136	replenish	fill something that had previously been emptied	The company sought to replenish its stock after the high demand.
137	premise	a statement that is held to be true	The premise of the argument was based on false information.
138	apathetic	lacking concern, emotion	Uninterested in politics, Bruno was apathetic about whether he lived under a capitalist or communist regime.
139	havoc	violent and needless disturbance	The storm wreaked havoc on the city, causing widespread damage.
140	conflagration	a very intense and uncontrolled fire	The conflagration consumed the entire forest in just a few hours.
141	ease	To reduce unpleasantness or difficulty.	This prescription will ease your allergies.
142	feasibility	the practicality or possibility of something	The feasibility of her project was doubtful; she'd have to go all the way to Antarctica and back before the school year ended.
143	poignant	keenly distressing to the mind or feelings	The movie's poignant ending left everyone in tears.
144	erroneous	Incorrect.	He apologized for his erroneous statement.
145	juxtaposition	the act of placing two things next to each other for implicit comparison	The interior designer admired my juxtaposition of the yellow couch and green table.
146	heresy	Opinion Contrary To Popular Belief Or To Accepted Religion	Galileo's assertion that the earth moved around the sun directly contradicted the religious teachings of his day; as a result, he was tried for heresy.
147	alacrity	liveliness and eagerness	She accepted the invitation with alacrity, eager to join the event.
148	array	an impressive display or assortment	The array of options was overwhelming, leaving us unsure where to start.
149	advocate	a person who pleads for a person, cause, or idea	She was an advocate for animal rights and volunteered at the shelter.
150	temper	To Moderate	He tempered his criticism by adding a few words of encouragement.
151	concede	to be forced to agree or surrender	With no chance of winning the battle, the army at last conceded.
152	palatable	agreeable to the taste or sensibilities	Despite the unpleasant smell, the exotic cheese was quite palatable.
153	acclaim	high praise	Greg's excellent poem won the acclaim of his friends.
154	culpable	deserving blame or censure as being wrong or injurious	He was culpable for the accident, having ignored safety procedures.
155	pugnacious	ready and able to resort to force or violence	His pugnacious attitude made him unpopular among his colleagues.
156	disheveled	in disarray; extremely disorderly	His disheveled hair suggested he had been in a hurry.
157	nucleus	A central or essential part around which other parts are gathered	The nucleus of many European cities is the town square.
158	entrenched	firmly established	Her face will forever be entrenched in my memory.
159	integrate	To combine	When making a cake, you need to fully integrate the wet and dry ingredients.
160	ostracism	exclusion from a group	Beth risked ostracism if her roommates discovered her flatulence.
161	imposing	impressive (esp in size or appearance)	The old mansion was imposing in its huge size and gothic architecture.
162	disparate	fundamentally different or distinct in quality or kind	Their disparate backgrounds made it difficult to find common ground.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

163	eradicate	destroy completely, as if down to the roots	The goal is to eradicate poverty in the next decade.
164	ferocity	viciousness, violence	The lion is just one wild animal known for its ferocity.
165	mitigate	to make less violent, alleviate	When I had an awful sore throat, only warm tea would mitigate the pain.
166	replete	filled to satisfaction with food or drink	The bookshelf was replete with novels of every genre.
167	discretion	the quality of being reserved in speech or action; good judgment	Not wanting her patient to get overly anxious, the doctor used discretion in deciding how much to tell the patient about his condition.
168	obsolete	no longer used; rare or uncommon	Historians assumed record players would be obsolete by now, but in fact they're making a huge comeback.
169	fatal	bringing death	The fatal accident left the entire community in mourning.
170	absolution	freedom from blame, guilt, sin	Once all the facts were known, the jury gave Angela absolution by giving a verdict of not guilty.
171	vestige	an indication that something has been present	The ruins were the last vestige of an ancient civilization.
172	accomplice	a person who joins with another in carrying out some plan	The accomplice was arrested for aiding in the robbery.
173	serene	calm, untroubled	Louise stood in front of the Mona Lisa, puzzling over the famous woman's serene smile.
174	succinct	briefly giving the gist of something	Please be succinct in your explanation.
175	cynic	someone who is critical of the motives of others	The cynic believed that people were primarily motivated by self-interest.
176	succumb	give in, as to overwhelming force, influence, or pressure	He finally succumbed to the illness after a long battle.
177	lavish	given without limits	Because they had worked very hard, the performers appreciated the critic's lavish praise.
178	atrophy	a decrease in size of an organ caused by disease or disuse	The patient experienced atrophy in his muscles due to inactivity.
179	tenacious	stubbornly unyielding	She was tenacious in her pursuit of excellence, never giving up.
180	ostensible	appearing as such but not necessarily so	The ostensible reason for the meeting was to discuss the project.
181	diminutive	very small	The diminutive figure of the child contrasted with the towering adults.
182	irrevocable	incapable of being taken back	The Bill of Rights is an irrevocable part of American law.
183	nuance	a subtle difference in meaning or opinion or attitude	The artist's use of light and shadow added a subtle nuance to the portrait.
184	invoke	to call on; to appeal to	The shaman attempted to invoke a demon.
185	rhetoric	study of the technique for using language effectively	The politician's rhetoric was designed to sway the voters.
186	sinister	wicked, evil, or dishonorable	His sinister grin made everyone uncomfortable.
187	implicate	to involve in an incriminating way, incriminate	Even though Tom wasn't present at the time of the shooting, he was implicated by the evidence suggesting that he had supplied the shooters with guns.
188	excavate	to dig out of the ground and remove	The pharaoh's treasures were excavated by archeologists in Egypt.
189	amicable	characterized by friendship and good will	They had an amicable conversation, agreeing to part ways peacefully.
190	agnostic	believing that the existence of God cannot be proven or disproven	Joey's parents are very religious, but he is agnostic.
191	maverick	an independent, nonconformist person	Andreas is a real maverick and always does things his own way.
192	abrogate	revoke formally	The decision to abrogate the policy was controversial.
193	deter	turn away from as by fear or persuasion	The heavy rain did little to deter her from attending the meeting.
194	insolent	rude, arrogant, overbearing	That celebrity is so insolent, making fun of his fans right to their faces.
195	bias	a partiality preventing objective consideration of an issue	His bias towards his favorite team was obvious in his commentary.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

196	capitulate	surrender under agreed conditions	The general decided to capitulate after months of siege.
197	degrade	reduce in worth or character, usually verbally	His comments were meant to degrade her efforts, making her feel inferior.
198	indifference	the trait of remaining calm and seeming not to care	His indifference to the situation made it hard to trust his opinion.
199	inhibit	to prevent, restrain, stop	When I told you I needed the car last night, I certainly never meant to inhibit you from going out.
200	stipulate	make an express demand or provision in an agreement	The contract stipulates that all payments must be made by the deadline.
201	adjacent	Next to	Even though the villages are adjacent to each other, their residents speak different languages.
202	procure	to obtain, acquire	The FBI was unable to procure sufficient evidence to charge the gangster with racketeering.
203	perpetrate	perform an act, usually with a negative connotation	The criminal was determined to perpetrate his crime regardless of the risks.
204	congregation	a gathering of people, especially for religious services	The priest told the congregation that he would be retiring.
205	disgruntled	in a state of sulky dissatisfaction	He was disgruntled with the outcome of the meeting.
206	saturate	infuse or fill completely	The rain began to saturate the ground, causing floods.
207	substantial	very large in amount or degree	I was shocked to find a substantial amount of money beneath the park bench.
208	imperative	requiring attention or action	It is imperative that you submit your application before the deadline.
209	surmise	infer from incomplete evidence	He could only surmise the reason for her sudden departure.
210	scrutinize	examine carefully for accuracy	She scrutinized the document carefully before signing.
211	skirmish	a minor short-term fight	A minor skirmish broke out during the protest.
212	scrupulous	paying great attention to detail	I am a scrupulous proofreader and never miss an error.
213	pacifist	One Opposed To War Or Any Other Form Of Violence	Shooting his way through the jungle, Rambo was clearly not a pacifist.
214	ephemeral	short-lived, fleeting	She promised she'd love me forever, but her "forever" was only ephemeral: she left me after one week.
215	sporadic	recurring in scattered or unpredictable instances	His actions were sporadic, making it difficult to predict his behavior.
216	dogmatic	aggressively and arrogantly certain about unproved principles	His dogmatic claim that men were better than women at fixing appliances angered everyone.
217	cajole	influence or urge by gentle urging, caressing, or flattering	He tried to cajole her into helping with the project.
218	staunch	firm and dependable especially in loyalty	The staunch supporter never wavered in her belief.
219	lethargic	deficient in alertness or activity	He felt lethargic after the long day of work and decided to take a nap.
220	dubious	fraught with uncertainty or doubt	His dubious behavior made everyone suspicious of his intentions.
221	intermediary	Acting as an agent between people or things	The plaintiff's lawyer suggested that they hire an intermediary to help them discuss their case.
222	pathetic	deserving or inciting pity	The pathetic condition of the abandoned puppy was heartbreaking.
223	admonish	scold or reprimand; take to task	The coach admonished the player for not following the team's strategy.
224	deprecate	express strong disapproval of; deplore	He sought to deprecate his own accomplishments, though they were impressive.
225	frankly	directly, clearly	I frankly don't see the point in learning to drive.
226	benign	favorable, not threatening, mild	We were all relieved to hear that the medical tests determined her tumor to be benign.
227	ominous	threatening or foreshadowing evil or tragic developments	The ominous clouds signaled an approaching storm.
228	antipathy	a feeling of intense dislike	Her antipathy toward the idea of moving was obvious in her expression.
229	ebullient	extremely lively, enthusiastic	She became ebullient upon receiving an acceptance letter from her first-choice college.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

230	objectivity	judgment based on observations instead of emotions or opinions	In scientific research, objectivity is of utmost importance.
231	euphoric	elated, uplifted	I was euphoric when I found out that my sister had given birth to twins.
232	futility	uselessness as a consequence of having no practical result	The futility of the project became clear after months of effort.
233	dispose of	To throw away; to get rid of; to kill	She disposed of her unwanted possessions before moving.
234	mutable	able to change	Because fashion is so mutable, what is trendy today will look outdated in five years.
235	berate	to scold vehemently	The angry boss berated his employees for failing to meet their deadline.
236	atone	to repent, make amends	The man atoned for forgetting his wife's birthday by buying her five dozen roses.
237	arduous	Requiring a lot of effort.	After you cross the bridge, there's an arduous walk up the hill.
238	appraise	to assess the worth or value of	A realtor will come over tonight to appraise our house.
239	permeate	To spread or flow throughout; to pass through or penetrate	The smell of cooking permeated the entire apartment building.
240	remedial	intended to repair gaps in students' basic knowledge	After his teacher discovered he couldn't read, Alex was forced to enroll in remedial English.
241	feasible	capable of being done with means at hand	The project seems feasible with the current budget.
242	turbulent	characterized by unrest or disorder or insubordination	The turbulent sea made the journey difficult for the sailors.
243	deface	to ruin or injure something's appearance	The brothers used eggs and shaving cream to deface their neighbor's mailbox.
244	obsess	be preoccupied with something	She began to obsess over every small detail of the project.
245	prestigious	having an excellent reputation; respected	The prestigious university has a history of excellence and innovation.
246	cacophony	loud confusing disagreeable sounds	The cacophony of honking horns was unbearable during rush hour.
247	rescind	to take back, repeal	The company rescinded its offer of employment after discovering that Jane's resume was full of lies.
248	adamant	very hard native crystalline carbon valued as a gem	She was adamant about not changing her mind.
249	reverence	A Feeling Of Profound Respect For Someone Or Something	The biography showed great reverence for the late president.
250	inflation	A situation in which prices for many items rise quite fast	During the rapid inflation of the 1970s, prices for food and fuel sometimes rose 20 percent in a single month.
251	equanimity	steadiness of mind under stress	She faced the stressful situation with remarkable equanimity.
252	wistful	showing pensive sadness	She had a wistful expression on her face as she thought about the past.
253	conformist	one who behaves the same as others	Julian was such a conformist that he had to wait and see if his friends would do something before he would commit.
254	revile	spread negative information about	He began to revile his former friend after learning of his betrayal.
255	onset	the beginning or early stages	At the onset of her career as a lawyer, things were looking up.
256	culminate	end, especially to reach a final or climactic stage	The event will culminate with a grand performance in the evening.
257	inversion	a reversal	The culture's norms were an inversion of our own.
258	unilateral	one-sided	The unilateral decision was deemed unfair by the other party involved.
259	pathos	an emotion of sympathy	Martha filled with pathos upon discovering the scrawny, shivering kitten at her door.
260	respite	a pause from doing something	After hours of work, they were given a brief respite.
261	satiate	to satisfy excessively	Satiated after eating far too much turkey and stuffing, Liza lay on the couch watching football and suffering from stomach pains.
262	taut	pulled or drawn tight	The taut rope was stretched between the two trees.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

263	amiable	friendly	An amiable fellow, Harry got along with just about everyone.
264	nostalgia	a longing for something past	She felt a wave of nostalgia as she revisited her childhood home.
265	entail	to involve or include	A doctoral program entails long nights and a heavy workload.
266	malicious	harmful, spiteful	The malicious spirit drove out the inhabitants from their home.
267	cessation	a stopping	The cessation of hostilities was agreed upon after the peace talks.
268	heresy	a belief that rejects the orthodox tenets of a religion	His views on science were considered heresy by the religious authorities.
269	putrid	rotten, foul	Those rotten eggs smell putrid.
270	surfeit	indulge (one's appetite) to satiety	After eating a surfeit of sweets, he felt sick.
271	abortive	failing to accomplish an intended result	The project ended in an abortive attempt, with no progress made.
272	oration	a speech delivered in a formal or ceremonious manner	The prime minister was visibly shaken when the unruly parliament interrupted his oration about failed domestic policies.
273	materialism	a desire for wealth and possessions	Materialism has been criticized for placing too much value on physical possessions.
274	gullible	naive and easily deceived or tricked	She was gullible, always believing everything she was told.
275	inviolable	incapable of being transgressed or dishonored	The inviolable laws of the land must be respected by all.
276	rhetorical	Used just for style or impact.	You aren't expected to actually answer rhetorical questions.
277	irresolute	Uncertain.	Not sure which direction to go in, he stood irresolute.
278	languid	sluggish from fatigue or weakness	In the summer months, the great heat makes people languid and lazy.
279	incisive	demonstrating ability to recognize or draw fine distinctions	His incisive questions cut straight to the heart of the issue.
280	conundrum	puzzle, problem	Interpreting Jane's behavior was a constant conundrum.
281	reticent	reluctant to draw attention to yourself	He remained reticent about his plans, not sharing any detail.
282	compatible	able to exist and perform in harmonious combination	The two siblings were surprisingly compatible, despite their differences.
283	persecute	to cause suffering to	They will persecute anyone who doesn't agree with their views of the world.
284	didactic	intended to instruct	She wrote up a didactic document showing new employees how to handle the company's customers.
285	cumulative	increasing by successive addition	The cumulative effects of the pollution were devastating to the ecosystem.
286	provocative	intending to provoke, inspire, or arouse	Her nude paintings are considered quite provocative.
287	artificial	something made; not occurring naturally	Many candies use artificial flavors to make them taste fruity.
288	analogous	similar or equivalent in some respects	The two situations were analogous, making comparisons easy.
289	unwarranted	Having No Justification Or Grounds	We could not understand Warren's unwarranted rudeness to his mother's guests.
290	pariah	a person who is rejected from society or home	He became a social pariah after the scandal.
291	intrusively	In a way that brings an unwanted person or thing into someone else's affairs	The new consultant from company headquarters appeared intrusively at meetings, staff parties, and other functions where he was not wanted.
292	serenity	the absence of mental stress or anxiety	After the long hike, she found peace and serenity by the lake.
293	amnesty	a warrant granting release from punishment for an offense	Amnesty was granted to all political prisoners after the peace agreement.
294	defamatory	harmful and often untrue; tending to discredit or malign	The defamatory article caused a great deal of harm to her reputation.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

295	ingenuous	not devious; innocent and candid	He must have writers, but his speeches seem so ingenuous it's hard to believe he's not speaking from his own heart.
296	wary	marked by keen caution and watchful prudence	He was wary of trusting people too easily after the betrayal.
297	amenity	an item that increases comfort	Bill Gates's house is stocked with so many amenities, he never has to do anything for himself.
298	divulge	make known to the public information previously kept secret	He refused to divulge the secret, even under pressure.
299	compliant	ready to adapt oneself to another's wishes	Sue had very strong opinions about what to do on a first date, and Ted was absolutely compliant.
300	predecessor	someone who comes before you (usu in position or office)	My predecessor gave me many tips for running the office.
301	zealous	marked by active interest and enthusiasm	She was a zealous supporter of the cause, always advocating for change.
302	presumptuous	disrespectfully bold	The princess grew angry after the presumptuous noble tried to kiss her, even though he was far below her in social status.
303	embezzle	to steal money by falsifying records	The accountant was fired for embezzling $10,000 of the company's funds.
304	deft	skillful, capable	Having worked in a bakery for many years, Marcus was a deft bread maker.
305	fiasco	a complete failure or collapse	The event turned into a fiasco due to poor planning and execution.
306	infallible	incapable of failure or error	The belief in an infallible leader was common in totalitarian regimes.
307	venerable	profoundly honored	The venerable elder was respected by all in the village.
308	paragon	a perfect embodiment of a concept	She was a paragon of virtue, always helping others in need.
309	fathom	to understand, comprehend	I cannot fathom why you like that crabby and mean-spirited neighbor of ours.
310	hallowed	revered, consecrated	In the hallowed corridors of the cathedral, the disturbed professor felt himself to be at peace.
311	stark	very plain; devoid of any details or features	Looking out at the stark landscape, I felt a keen sense of isolation.
312	manipulation	Quietly moving or influencing people or things in order to get what you want	Bob's manipulation of the boss's feelings led to his promotion.
313	obstinate	not yielding easily, stubborn	The obstinate child refused to leave the store until his mother bought him a candy bar.
314	peculiar	strange, bizarre	Upon entering the abandoned house, Kate experienced a peculiar feeling, as if someone was watching her.
315	imprudent	not sensible, responsible, or wise	His imprudent decision to invest all his savings was disastrous.
316	whimsical	determined by chance or impulse rather than by necessity	His whimsical ideas often amused his friends but were impractical.
317	retract	withdraw	As the media worked itself into a frenzy, the publicist hurriedly retracted his client's sexist statement.
318	callous	emotionally hardened	His callous remark hurt her feelings deeply.
319	complement	to make perfect or complete	This wine perfectly complements this platter of gourmet cheese.
320	foreseeable	capable of being predicted or anticipated	I can't imagine aliens visiting us in the foreseeable future.
321	convoluted	intricate, complicated	Grace's story was so convoluted that I couldn't follow it.
322	conformity	Behaving According To Socially Accepted Rules/Beliefs	I choose not to conform because I enjoy being an original.
323	candor	the quality of being honest and straightforward	His candor during the interview impressed the hiring manager.
324	jettison	throw away, of something encumbering	The captain decided to jettison the cargo to save the ship.
325	sedate	characterized by dignity and propriety	The doctor gave him medication to sedate his anxious thoughts.
326	illicit	forbidden, not permitted	The fourth-grader learned many illicit words from a pamphlet that was being passed around school.
327	complicity	guilt as a confederate in a crime or offense	His complicity in the crime was undeniable.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

328	impede	be a hindrance or obstacle to	The heavy traffic impeded their progress, making them late.
329	exponentially	At a very fast rate	In Turkey, the value of the lira has decreased exponentially in the last several decades.
330	belittle	cause to seem lesser or inferior	The manager's tendency to belittle his employees made the office tense.
331	avarice	reprehensible acquisitiveness; insatiable desire for wealth	The businessman's avarice led him to make unethical decisions.
332	oblivious	lacking consciousness or awareness of something	Oblivious to the burning smell emanating from the kitchen, my father did not notice that the rolls in the oven were burned until much too late.
333	pensive	deeply or seriously thoughtful	She looked pensive, lost in thought, while staring out the window.
334	diffuse	to scatter, thin out, break up	He diffused the tension in the room by making in a joke.
335	paucity	an insufficient quantity or number	There was a paucity of resources to handle the crisis.
336	archetypal	the most representative or typical example of something	Some believe George Washington, with his flowing white hair and commanding stature, was the archetypal politician.
337	commendation	a notice of approval or recognition	Jared received a commendation from Linda, his supervisor, for his stellar performance.
338	inordinate	beyond normal limits	His inordinate spending habits led to financial troubles.
339	nirvana	the beatitude that transcends the cycle of reincarnation	The Buddhist monk reached nirvana, a state of perfect enlightenment.
340	prudence	cautious, circumspect	After losing a fortune in a stock market crash, my father vowed to practice greater prudence in future investments.
341	adulation	extreme praise	Though the book was pretty good, Marcy did not believe it deserved the adulation it received.
342	myriad	a large indefinite number	She had a myriad of ideas for her new project.
343	vigilant	carefully observant or attentive	The guards remained vigilant throughout the night.
344	reclusive	solitary, shunning society	Reclusive authors such as J.D. Salinger do not relish media attention and sometimes even enjoy holing up in remote cabins in the woods.
345	unscathed	Unharmd.	Ian was lucky to walk away from the car crash unscathed.
346	sparse	Thinly scattered.	The farm was almost empty; there were just a few sparse trees here and there.
347	virulent	extremely poisonous or injurious; producing venom	The virus was virulent, spreading rapidly through the population.
348	senile	mentally or physically infirm with age	The elderly man showed signs of being senile, often forgetting things.
349	denote	have as a meaning	The word "cat" denotes a domestic feline animal.
350	bereft	lacking or deprived of something	She felt bereft after the loss of her beloved pet.
351	pious	Having or exhibiting religious reverence	Sometimes she was so pious that the rest of us felt like heathens.
352	recant	formally reject or disavow a formerly held belief	He was forced to recant his earlier statement after new evidence emerged.
353	extinct	no longer in existence	Many species have gone extinct due to environmental changes.
354	contentious	having a tendency to quarrel or dispute	George's contentious personality made him unpopular with his classmates.
355	warrant	to prove to be reasonable	Wanting to look cool in front of your friends doesn't warrant breaking the law.
356	subjugate	make subservient; force to submit or subdue	The king sought to subjugate all the surrounding kingdoms.
357	serendipity	luck, finding good things without looking for them	In an amazing bit of serendipity, penniless Paula found a $20 bill in the subway station.
358	ubiquitous	being present everywhere at once	Smartphones are ubiquitous in today's society.
359	indefatigable	incapable of defeat, failure, decay	Even after traveling 62 miles, the indefatigable runner kept on moving.
360	irreverence	disrespect	The irreverence displayed by the band that marched through the chapel disturbed many churchgoers.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

361	winsome	charming, pleasing	After such a long, frustrating day, I was grateful for Chris's winsome attitude and childish naivete.
362	covet	wish, long, or crave for	He began to covet his neighbor's car, envying its luxury.
363	compensate	make amends for	He worked hard to compensate for the lost time.
364	unwieldy	difficult to use or handle because of size or weight	The unwieldy package was difficult to carry up the stairs.
365	antecedent	something that came before	The great tradition of Western culture had its antecedent in the culture of Ancient Greece.
366	facile	arrived at without due care or effort; lacking depth	His facile victory over the opponent was unexpected.
367	stunted	inferior in size or quality	The growth of the plant was stunted due to lack of sunlight.
368	latent	potentially existing but not presently evident or realized	The latent talent for painting was discovered only later in life.
369	meager	deficient in size or quality	My meager portion of food did nothing to satisfy my appetite.
370	impunity	exemption from punishment or loss	The criminal was granted impunity for his cooperation in the investigation.
371	transgress	to violate, go over a limit	The criminal's actions transgressed morality and human decency.
372	excel	to do something extremely well or to be superior in	She was a well-rounded student but excelled especially in science.
373	servile	submissive or fawning in attitude or behavior	His servile attitude made him a favorite among his superiors.
374	exotic	Interesting or unusual because of coming from a faraway place	I walked into the restaurant and smelled the exotic aromas of Malaysian spices.
375	ascribe	to assign, credit, attribute to	Some ascribe the invention of fireworks and dynamite to the Chinese.
376	unjust	unfair; not justified	The court's decision is unjust—he should not go free.
377	omnipotent	having unlimited power	The king was believed to be omnipotent, having absolute power.
378	edict	an order, decree	The ruler issued an edict requiring all of his subjects to bow down before him.
379	facetious	cleverly amusing in tone	His facetious remarks were meant to lighten the mood.
380	obscure	not clearly understood or expressed	The obscure meaning of the poem was lost on many of the readers.
381	prompt	to incite, propel, or cause to act	The possibility of a scholarship prompted him to apply to Harvard.
382	vocation	the work in which someone is employed, profession	After growing tired of the superficial world of high-fashion, Edwina decided to devote herself to a new vocation: social work.
383	proximity	the property of being close together	The proximity of the school to her home made it easy to attend.
384	endow	to equip or bestow (usu a quality or ability)	According to the myth, the gods endowed him with the gift of healing.
385	disclose	to reveal, make public	The CEO disclosed to the press that the company would have to fire several employees.
386	agitate	to promote something (usu	They're agitating for better health care.
387	quantitative	involving quantities (numbers and amounts)	We must conduct a quantitative analysis.
388	affront	an insult	Bernardo was very touchy, and took any slight as an affront to his honor.
389	forbearance	patience, restraint, toleration	The doctor showed great forbearance in calming down the angry patient who shouted insults at him.
390	ludicrous	Ridiculous.	His claims about me are absolutely ludicrous.
391	anguish	extreme sadness, torment	Angelos suffered terrible anguish when he learned that Buffy had died while combating a strange mystical force of evil.
392	conjecture	believe especially on uncertain or tentative grounds	The scientist's conjecture about the theory led to further research.
393	indict	accuse formally of a crime	The grand jury will indict the suspect based on the evidence.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

394	dreary	sad, gloomy, dull	The gray clouds in the sky made the day feel dreary.
395	plethora	extreme excess	There was a plethora of options to choose from at the buffet.
396	extol	praise, glorify, or honor	He sought to extol the virtues of kindness and compassion.
397	altercation	a noisy argument or confrontation	Greg got into an altercation with a stranger at the bar.
398	imperious	commanding, domineering	The imperious nature of your manner led me to dislike you at once.
399	canny	shrewd, careful	The canny runner hung at the back of the pack through much of the race to watch the other runners, and then sprinted past them at the end.
400	impose	To force upon.	After the riots, the mayor imposed a curfew on the town.
401	loath	strongly opposed	She was loath to leave her childhood home after so many years.
402	cosmopolitan	sophisticated, worldly	Lloyd's education and upbringing were cosmopolitan, so he felt right at home among the powerful and learned.
403	perplex	to confuse	Brad was perplexed by his girlfriend's suddenly distant manner.
404	incredulous	not disposed or willing to believe; unbelieving	She looked at him with an incredulous expression, not believing his story.
405	dispatch	to send off a message or messenger	The mother dispatched her daughter to their neighbor's house.
406	engender	to bring about, create, generate	During the Olympics, the victories of U.S. athletes engender a patriotic spirit among Americans.
407	licentious	displaying a lack of moral or legal restraints	Marilee has always been fascinated by the licentious private lives of politicians.
408	cynically	Disrespectfully; emphasizing the weaknesses of otherwise respected things	Employees of the Roadways Department cynically referred to their boss as "the banker" because he took so many bribes.
409	adroit	quick or skillful or adept in action or thought	She was adroit at handling delicate negotiations.
410	blatant	without any attempt at concealment; completely obvious	His blatant disregard for the rules led to his dismissal.
411	reciprocity	Doing as much for another as he or she has done for you	Dan was giving a lot of attention to Kelly, but he felt no reciprocity in their relationship.
412	discrepancy	difference, failure of things to correspond	He was troubled by the discrepancy between what he remembered paying for the appliance and what his receipt showed he paid for it.
413	fortuitous	lucky; occurring by happy chance	It was a fortuitous meeting, occurring just when I needed advice.
414	precedent	an example that is used to justify similar occurrences	The precedent set by previous decisions guided the court's ruling.
415	redress	make reparations or amends for	She sought to redress the balance after the unfair decision.
416	tolerate	put up with something or somebody unpleasant	She could not tolerate the constant noise from the construction site.
417	anecdote	a short, humorous account	After dinner, Marlon told an anecdote about the time he got his nose stuck in a toaster.
418	exacerbate	make worse	His rude comments only served to exacerbate the situation.
419	invalidate	make no longer acceptable for use	The contract was invalidated due to the failure to meet the terms.
420	solace	comfort offered to one who is disappointed or miserable	She found solace in the peaceful sound of the ocean.
421	calamity	an event with disastrous consequences	The earthquake in San Francisco was a calamity worse than any other natural disaster in history.
422	decorum	propriety in manners and conduct	The professor maintained decorum during the heated debate.
423	sage	a mentor in spiritual and philosophical topics	The sage offered wise advice to the young king.
424	incompetent	Unskilled; lacking the ability to perform a task	Because we hired an incompetent builder to replace our roof, we now have leaks everywhere.
425	clandestine	conducted with or marked by hidden aims or methods	They held a clandestine meeting in order to discuss the secret plan.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

426	haven	a sheltered port where ships can take on or discharge cargo	The island served as a haven for sailors in distress.
427	engrossed	giving or marked by complete attention to	He was so engrossed in his book that he didn't hear the doorbell ring.
428	residual	Left behind after most of a thing has gone	In the house, mom found residual traces of dirt.
429	intrinsic	belonging to a thing by its very nature	The intrinsic value of the artwork lies in its history.
430	instigate	to urge, goad	The demagogue instigated the crowd into a fury by telling them that they had been cheated by the federal government.
431	indiscriminate	failing to make or recognize distinctions	The indiscriminate use of pesticides harmed both plants and animals.
432	obsolescence	falling into disuse or becoming out of date	The obsolescence of the old technology meant it was no longer useful.
433	exasperate	to irritate, irk	George's endless complaints exasperated his roommate.
434	procrastinate	waste time or postpone doing what one should be doing	She tended to procrastinate, often leaving tasks until the last minute.
435	qualitative	involving qualities of something (features and content)	I noticed a qualitative change in her paintings.
436	ponder	reflect deeply on a subject	She paused to ponder the consequences of her actions.
437	disperse	to scatter, cause to scatter	When the rain began to pour, the crowd at the baseball game quickly dispersed.
438	retrospect	contemplation of things past	In retrospect, we realize how much we learned during the trip.
439	accord	an agreement	After much negotiating, England and Iceland finally came to a mutually beneficial accord about fishing rights off the coast of Greenland.
440	sojourn	a temporary stay	They took a brief sojourn in the mountains for a relaxing getaway.
441	consummate	having or revealing supreme mastery or skill	The consummate artist completed his masterpiece with precision.
442	derive	To come from, usually through a long, slow process	The Cyrillic alphabet was derived from the Greek alphabet.
443	myriad	A Very Large Number	Myriads of mosquitoes from the marshes invaded our campground at twilight.
444	resent	To feel bitterness or anger towards someone or something.	I've always resented my sister because she is my mother's favorite child.
445	excursion	a trip or outing	After taking an excursion to the Bronx Zoo, I dreamed about pandas and monkeys.
446	negligible	so small as to be meaningless; insignificant	The difference in their opinions seemed negligible to most people.
447	somber	serious and gloomy in character	The somber atmosphere in the room reflected the seriousness of the discussion.
448	reprieve	a temporary delay of punishment	Because the governor woke up in a particularly good mood, he granted hundreds of reprieves to prisoners.
449	insipid	dull, boring	The play was so insipid, I fell asleep halfway through.
450	assiduous	marked by care and persistent effort	She was assiduous in her efforts, always striving to achieve perfection.
451	contradict	to be in contrast with	The camera footage contradicts his alibi.
452	languish	To become weak; to be neglected.	During winter break, my plants languished since I was visiting my parents and couldn't water them.
453	terminate	bring to an end or halt	The company decided to terminate his contract after multiple complaints.
454	malevolent	wishing or appearing to wish evil to others	The malevolent witch cursed the villagers, causing them harm.
455	rancor	deep, bitter resentment	When Eileen challenged me to a fight, I could see the rancor in her eyes.
456	substantiate	establish or strengthen as with new evidence or facts	The evidence helped to substantiate his claims.
457	ambivalent	having opposing feelings	My feelings about Calvin are ambivalent because on one hand he is a loyal friend, but on the other, he is a cruel and vicious thief.
458	vivacious	vigorous and animated	Her vivacious personality made her the life of the party.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

459	disdain	lack of respect accompanied by a feeling of intense dislike	He looked at the messy room with disdain.
460	exalt	to glorify, praise	Michael Jordan is the figure in basketball we exalt the most.
461	assail	to attack	At dawn, the war planes assailed the boats in the harbor.
462	impoverish	To make a person or group poor	The collapse of the steel industry impoverished several counties in eastern Ohio.
463	compensate	To give an employee money or other things in exchange for the work he or she does	My pay doesn't properly compensate me for my efforts, but my other benefits, like health insurance, fill in the gap.
464	viable	capable of life or normal growth and development	He proposed a viable solution to the issue that everyone could agree on.
465	sanguine	confidently optimistic and cheerful	She was sanguine about the upcoming changes, confident they would be beneficial.
466	corroborate	give evidence for	The witness was able to corroborate the defendant's alibi.
467	audacious	excessively bold	The security guard was shocked by the fan's
468	conventional	abiding by accepted standards	She lives a conventional life in the suburbs.
469	locomotion	movement	Physics involves the study of locomotion.
470	transient	lasting a very short time	The transient nature of the flowers made them all the more beautiful.
471	affluent	having an abundant supply of money or possessions of value	The affluent neighborhood had beautiful homes and luxury cars.
472	impudent	casually rude, insolent, impertinent	The impudent young man looked the princess up and down and told her she was hot even though she hadn't asked him.
473	chagrin	strong feelings of embarrassment	He accepted the loss with chagrin, feeling humiliated.
474	supplant	To take the place of something else.	The king was supplanted by his treacherous younger brother who locked him in the dungeon.
475	intractable	difficult to manipulate, unmanageable	There was no end in sight to the intractable conflict between the warring countries.
476	inclination	a tendency, propensity	Sarah has an inclination to see every foreign film she hears about, even when she's sure that she won't like it.
477	catastrophic	Extremely harmful causing financial or physical ruin	The architect died in a catastrophic elevator accident.
478	vilify	spread negative information about	They sought to vilify their opponent through harsh criticism.
479	enunciate	express or state clearly	The professor asked the student to enunciate his thoughts more clearly.
480	enmity	ill will, hatred, hostility	Mark and Andy have clearly not forgiven each other, because the enmity between them is obvious to anyone in their presence.
481	ascetic	someone who practices self denial as a spiritual discipline	He led an ascetic life, avoiding indulgence in material pleasures.
482	subordinate	lower in rank	My subordinate will check you in.
483	belligerent	characteristic of an enemy or one eager to fight	The belligerent tone of the speech stirred unrest among the crowd.
484	mortify	cause to feel shame	She was mortified when she realized she had forgotten the meeting.
485	contemplate	to think deeply about	She contemplated telling her teacher about the cheating student.
486	hyperbole	extravagant exaggeration	His use of hyperbole in the speech made his claims sound exaggerated.
487	enfranchise	to grant the vote to	The Nineteenth Amendment enfranchised women.
488	strife	bitter conflict; heated or violent dissension	The nation was torn apart by strife, with constant conflict between the factions.
489	fervid	characterized by intense emotion	His fervid passion for the cause inspired many others to join.
490	renown	honor, acclaim	The young writer earned international renown by winning the Pulitzer Prize.
491	reinforce	to strengthen or add support to	We can use these pipes to reinforce the structure.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

492	irrelevant	having no bearing on or connection with the subject at issue	The irrelevant information was quickly dismissed during the meeting.
493	venom	toxin secreted by animals	The snake's venom could be fatal if not treated immediately.
494	figurative	symbolic	Using figurative language, Jane likened the storm to an angry bull.
495	repudiate	refuse to acknowledge, ratify, or recognize as valid	He repudiated the accusations, claiming they were false.
496	foster	to stimulate, promote, encourage	To foster good health in the city, the mayor started a "Get out and exercise!" campaign.
497	appalling	inspiring shock, horror, disgust	The judge found the murderer's crimes and lack of remorse appalling.
498	undulate	to move as ripples or in a wavy pattern	Belly dancers are known for their ability to skillfully undulate their stomachs.
499	apex	the highest point of something	The spring play was the apex of our school year.
500	heinous	extremely wicked or deeply criminal	The heinous crime shocked the entire community.
501	ascertain	learn or discover with confidence	It took a few weeks to ascertain the facts of the case.
502	grimace	contort the face to indicate a certain mental state	He couldn't help but grimace at the sour taste of the lemon.
503	contemptuous	expressing extreme scorn	She gave him a contemptuous look, clearly showing her disdain.
504	buffet	to strike with force	The strong winds buffeted the ships, threatening to capsize them.
505	surreptitious	marked by quiet and caution and secrecy	His surreptitious behavior made everyone suspicious of his intentions.
506	implicit	understood but not outwardly obvious, implied	I know Professor Smith didn't actually say not to write from personal experience, but I think such a message was implicit in her instruction to use scholarly sources.
507	spurious	plausible but false	The spurious report was quickly debunked by experts.
508	contravene	to contradict, oppose, violate	Edwidge contravened his landlady's rule against overnight guests.
509	pertinent	being of striking appropriateness	His comments were pertinent to the ongoing discussion.
510	abhor	feel hatred or disgust toward	I abhor any form of discrimination.
511	paradox	a statement that contradicts itself	It's a paradox that the more you know, the more you realize you don't know.
512	accommodate	have room for; hold without crowding	The hotel can accommodate up to 500 guests at once.
513	abstemious	marked by temperance in indulgence	The abstemious lifestyle he led kept him in great health.
514	trend	a general tendency to change, as of opinion	The trend toward minimalism in design has become more popular.
515	novice	a beginner, someone without training or experience	Because we were all novices at yoga, our instructor decided to begin with the basics.
516	derived	formed or developed from something else; not original	The information derived from multiple sources was compiled into a report.
517	constrict	squeeze or push together	The snake constricted around its prey, tightening its grip.
518	culmination	the final act or climax	The culmination of the performance was unforgettable.
519	parable	a short moral story	The parable taught an important moral lesson to the children.
520	convene	to call together	Jason convened his entire extended family for a discussion.
521	abdicate	to give up a position, usually one of leadership	When he realized that the revolutionaries would surely win, the king abdicated his throne.
522	empirical	derived from experience, observation, or an experiment	You need empirical evidence to support your claim.
523	insurgent	one who rebels	The insurgent snuck into and defaced a different classroom each night until the administration agreed to meet his demands.
524	disparage	express a negative opinion of	She didn't want to disparage his efforts, but the results were lacking.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

525	nebulous	lacking definite form or limits	The explanation for the event remained nebulous and unclear.
526	acquiesce	to agree without protesting	Though Mr. Correlli wanted to stay outside and work in his garage, when his wife told him that he had better come in to dinner, he acquiesced to her demands.
527	distraught	deeply agitated especially from emotion	She was distraught after hearing the tragic news.
528	demean	to lower the status or stature of something	She refused to demean her secretary by making him order her lunch.
529	alternative	Another option or choice.	If the ATM is broken, an alternative solution is to stop by the bank.
530	motivate	give an incentive for action	The coach sought to motivate the team by offering rewards for victory.
531	nascent	being born or beginning	The nascent technology was still in its early stages of development.
532	tactful	skilled at dealing with people	Her tactful attitude toward our class made her one of my favorite teachers.
533	eminent	standing above others in quality or position	The eminent scientist received a prestigious award for his research.
534	speculative	not based in fact	Sadly, Tessa was convicted on merely speculative evidence.
535	malign	speak unfavorably about	The villain tried to malign the hero's reputation.
536	postulate	to assert	The literary critic postulates that romanticism and naturalism are actually interconnected.
537	perpetuate	cause to continue or prevail	The king sought to perpetuate his legacy through monuments and stories.
538	spur	to stimulate or incite	Her bravery spurred others to act.
539	emaciated	very thin especially from disease or hunger or cold	The emaciated dog was found starving in the alley.
540	secular	Worldly rather than spiritual; not related to religion	Few private schools in the United States are secular.
541	repress	conceal or hide	The dictator sought to repress any signs of rebellion within the nation.
542	expend	to use up (as in energy or money)	Be careful not to expend all your energy in the first half of a marathon.
543	infamous	known widely and usually unfavorably	The infamous criminal was finally caught after years on the run.
544	adhere	to stick to something	We adhered the poster to the wall with tape.
545	dearth	an insufficient quantity or number	There was a dearth of food after the crop failure, leading to widespread hunger.
546	camaraderie	brotherhood, jovial unity	Camaraderie among employees usually leads to success in business.
547	emphatic	very expressive; using emphasis	Her emphatic smile told me she was excited to ride the roller coaster.
548	irrigation	The supplying of water to dry land	In dry areas of the country, you can see ditches all over the farm- land for irrigation.
549	elapse	pass by	Hours seemed to elapse quickly as we were enjoying ourselves.
550	antagonism	hostility	Superman and Bizarro Superman shared a mutual antagonism, and often fought.
551	implore	beg or request earnestly and urgently	I implore you to reconsider your decision before it's too late.
552	incessant	unending	We wanted to go outside and play, but the incessant rain kept us indoors for two days.
553	prodigious	great in size, force, extent, or degree	The prodigious talent of the young musician amazed the audience.
554	charlatan	a flamboyant deceiver	The charlatan tricked the villagers into buying fake remedies.
555	contrite	penitent, eager to be forgiven	Blake's contrite behavior made it impossible to stay angry at him.
556	erudite	having or showing profound knowledge	The erudite professor was known for his vast knowledge of literature.
557	vulnerable	capable of being wounded or hurt	The vulnerable child was in need of protection from the storm.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

558	strenuous	requiring tremendous energy or stamina	Running a marathon is quite a strenuous task. So is watching an entire Star Trek marathon.
559	galvanizing	thrilling, exciting, stimulating	The galvanizing performance left everyone spellbound.
560	garrulous	full of trivial conversation	The garrulous man talked endlessly about his life's adventures.
561	prelude	something that introduces what follows	The prelude to the concert was a beautiful overture.
562	obliterate	remove completely from recognition or memory	The town was obliterated in the explosion, leaving nothing behind.
563	temperament	usual mood or feelings	She had a hostile temperament, making her intimidating to most people.
564	hypothetical	supposed; related to a hypothesis	For my physics homework, I must come up with a hypothetical situation.
565	incompatibility	being unable to exist or work harmoniously	The incompatibility of their schedules made it impossible to meet.
566	euphemism	an inoffensive expression substituted for an offensive one	He used a euphemism to soften the impact of the bad news.
567	renunciation	to reject	Fiona's renunciation of red meat resulted in weight loss, but confused those people who thought she'd been a vegetarian for years.
568	rife	excessively abundant	The country was rife with corruption and social inequality.
569	prescribe	to command orders	The directions for our essay prescribe a length of at least ten pages.
570	infer	to guess, conclude, or derive by reasoning	You can infer from this quotation that the writer didn't care for "pretty" language.
571	rudimentary	being in the earliest stages of development	His rudimentary knowledge of French helped him get by in Paris.
572	prosecute	to bring criminal action against someone (in a trial)	The suspect was prosecuted yesterday.
573	aggregate	a whole or total	The three branches of the U.S. Government form an aggregate much more powerful than its individual parts.
574	opulence	wealth as evidenced by sumptuous living	The opulence of the royal palace was beyond imagination.
575	forum	a medium for lecture or discussion	Some radio talk-shows provide a good forum for political debate.
576	debacle	a sudden and complete disaster	The debacle left the company in financial ruin.
577	zenith	the highest point of something	Reaching the zenith of his career was a moment of triumph.
578	expurgate	edit by omitting or modifying parts considered indelicate	The committee decided to expurgate the offensive content from the book.
579	hierarchy	A system of levels that places people high or low according to their importance	Starting as a lowly private, Burt Jones gradually rose through the hierarchy of the army.
580	unmitigated	not diminished or moderated in intensity or severity	The situation was an unmitigated disaster, with no chance of recovery.
581	denounce	to criticize publicly	The senator denounced her opponent as a greedy politician.
582	rebuke	an act or expression of criticism and censure	She received a rebuke for her tardiness at the meeting.
583	propensity	a natural inclination	She has a natural propensity for learning languages quickly.
584	prognosticate	make a prediction about; tell in advance	Economists prognosticate a rise in inflation next year.
585	verbose	wordy, impaired by wordiness	It took the verbose teacher two hours to explain the topic, while it should have taken only fifteen minutes.
586	belated	after the expected or usual time	He made a belated apology for missing the meeting.
587	condone	excuse, overlook, or make allowances for	I cannot condone such behavior in this organization.
588	incumbent	necessary as a duty or responsibility; morally binding	It is incumbent upon all of us to take care of the environment.
589	benevolent	showing or motivated by sympathy and understanding	The benevolent philanthropist donated millions to charity.
590	futile	Useless Or Ineffective; Having No Useful Result	It is futile for me to try to get any studying done around here while my brother and his friends are throwing a Super Bowl party.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

591	exultation	the utterance of sounds expressing great joy	There was exultation in the streets after the team won the championship.
592	potent	having or wielding force or authority	The potion was potent enough to heal the wound immediately.
593	deference	respect; regard	Her deference to the elderly makes her the perfect candidate for an internship at the retirement center.
594	frivolous	of little importance, trifling	Someday, all that anxiety about whether your zit will disappear before the prom will seem totally frivolous.
595	enterprising	Creative in thinking of ways to make money	Immigrants are often among the most enterprising members of society, partly because anyone brave enough to make an overseas move is likely to be a risk-taker.
596	gluttony	overindulgence in food or drink	Ada's fried chicken tastes so divine, I don't know how anyone can call gluttony a sin.
597	peripheral	Located on the side or edge.	There are some peripheral fights going on at the outdoor concert.
598	perspicacious	mentally acute or penetratingly discerning	The perspicacious detective noticed the smallest clues.
599	nurture	provide with nourishment	Parents must nurture their children to help them grow and develop.
600	raucous	unpleasantly loud and harsh	The raucous crowd cheered loudly at the concert.
601	hackneyed	unoriginal, trite	A girl can only hear "I love you" so many times before it begins to sound hackneyed and meaningless.
602	prolific	intellectually productive	The prolific writer published several novels every year.
603	caustic	capable of destroying or eating away by chemical action	His caustic remarks burned everyone in the room.
604	requisite	necessary for relief or supply	The requisite documents were submitted to complete the application.
605	abstain	to freely choose not to commit an action	Everyone demanded that Angus put on the kilt, but he did not want to do it and abstained.
606	uncanny	of supernatural character or origin	Luka had an uncanny ability to know exactly what other people were thinking. She also had an uncanny ability to shoot fireballs from her hands.
607	impartiality	the equal and objective treatment of opposing views	To ensure impartiality, we require everyone to follow these general guidelines.
608	prototype	The first one made of a machine or system	The airplane manufacturer uses robots to test every prototype, just in case there is a problem with the design.
609	ambivalence	the state of being uncertain or stuck between two or more options	His ambivalence prevented him from immediately signing the contract.
610	irrational	not consistent with or using reason	His irrational fear of flying kept him from traveling.
611	compassion	a deep awareness of and sympathy for another's suffering	Her compassion for the less fortunate led her to volunteer regularly.
612	yoke	to join, link	We yoked together the logs by tying a string around them.
613	solicit	request urgently or persistently	He was accused of soliciting donations for a fake charity.
614	innate	present at birth but not necessarily hereditary	The innate talent for music was apparent even at a young age.
615	dismay	to fill with woe or apprehension	Many were dismayed by the town's implementation of metered parking.
616	empathy	sensitivity to another's feelings as if they were one's own	I feel such empathy for my sister when she's in pain that I cry too.
617	eschew	avoid and stay away from deliberately	She decided to eschew the unhealthy foods in favor of a balanced diet.
618	indulge	to give into; to satisfy or gratify	My friend loves to indulge in cheesy romance movies.
619	venerate	to regard with respect or to honor	The tribute to John Lennon sought to venerate his music, his words, and his legend.
620	immutable	not changeable	The laws of physics are immutable and constant.
621	decry	to criticize openly	The kind video rental clerk decried the policy of charging customers late fees.
622	acknowledge	declare to be true or admit the existence or reality of	She acknowledged the mistakes she made during the project.
623	phenomenon	any state or process known through the senses	The phenomenon of aurora borealis attracts many tourists to the north.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

624	impeccable	without error or flaw	His impeccable manners made him well-liked by everyone.
625	deleterious	harmful to living things	The deleterious effects of smoking are well-documented.
626	innovate	to do something in an unprecedented way	Because of the stiff competition, the company knew it needed to pour a lot of energy into innovating new and better products.
627	unobtrusive	Not attracting attention.	The prince's bodyguards had mastered the art of being unobtrusive.
628	unprecedented	completely new and never having happened before; historic	The number of protestors was unprecedented.
629	confide	to share something secretive with someone	She confided all of her biggest secrets in her best friend.
630	bolster	to support, strengthen, or fortify	If we work together, we should be able to lift and then bolster the couch.
631	dissuade	to persuade someone not to do something	Worried that he would catch a cold, she tried to dissuade him from going out on winter nights.
632	incidental	A minor part.	Don't worry about your grade on this quiz; it's only an incidental part of your grade.
633	coerce	cause to do through pressure or necessity	The manager tried to coerce the workers into agreeing with his decision.
634	finite	Having an end or limits.	Remember that life is finite; you're not immortal.
635	repute	the state of being held in high esteem and honor	She gained a reputation for being hardworking and reliable.
636	eclectic	consisting of a diverse variety of elements	That bar attracts an eclectic crowd: lawyers, artists, circus clowns, and investment bankers.
637	defunct	no longer used or existing	They planned to turn the defunct schoolhouse into a community center.
638	ignominious	deserving or bringing disgrace or shame	His ignominious defeat left him embarrassed and humiliated.
639	usurp	seize and take control without authority	He tried to usurp the leader's position in the organization.
640	tedious	dull, boring	As time passed and the history professor continued to drone on and on, the lecture became increasingly tedious.
641	haphazard	Lacking planning.	There was no schedule, so the event was very haphazard.
642	digress	To wander from the main subject.	The teacher digressed from the lecture to discuss the weather.
643	harbinger	something indicating the approach of something or someone	The dark clouds were a harbinger of the coming storm.
644	pinnacle	a slender upright spire at the top of a buttress or a tower	Reaching the summit of the mountain was the pinnacle of his journey.
645	intricate	Highly detailed.	The pattern on this blanket is so intricate.
646	arbiter	someone chosen to judge and decide a disputed issue	As the arbiter of the competition, she decided the final winner.
647	stigmatize	condemn or openly brand as disgraceful	The media was quick to stigmatize the politician, labeling him corrupt.
648	distribute	To give portions of something.	Distribute the materials evenly among the class.
649	dismantle	take off or remove	The workers had to dismantle the old building before construction could begin.
650	therapy	the act of providing treatment for an illness or disorder	She sought therapy to help her manage stress more effectively.
651	irreconcilable	incapable of being in harmony or agreed upon	The couple's differences were ultimately irreconcilable, giving them no choice but to break up.
652	profane	lewd, indecent	Jacob's profane act of dumping frogs in the holy water in the chapel at his boarding school resulted in his dismissal.
653	verdict	A judgment in a court case	It took the jury only 30 minutes to reach a verdict of "guilty."
654	adolescent	Characteristic of a teenager; not fully grown up	In policy meetings, George refuses to reason with anyone and just scowls in an adolescent way.
655	rationalize	employ logic or reason	He tried to rationalize his decision, but it still seemed wrong.
656	sanctuary	a consecrated place where sacred objects are kept	The church served as a sanctuary for those in need of protection.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

657	antagonize	To tease or be hostile towards a person or group.	The boy loves to antagonize his little sister by pulling her hair.
658	elated	overjoyed, thrilled	When she found out she had won the lottery, the writer was elated.
659	interminable	tiresomely long; seemingly without end	The lecture seemed interminable, dragging on for hours.
660	tranquil	free from disturbance by heavy waves	The tranquil lake was the perfect place for relaxation.
661	sanctimonious	excessively or hypocritically pious	His sanctimonious attitude made others uncomfortable.
662	cognizant	having or showing knowledge or understanding or realization	She was cognizant of the challenges ahead and prepared accordingly.
663	erratic	having no fixed course; deviating from the norm	The car became erratic after slipping on ice.
664	abide	to put up with	Though he did not agree with the decision, Chuck decided to abide by it.
665	altruistic	showing unselfish concern for the welfare of others	The altruistic actions of the volunteers helped many families.
666	surly	unfriendly; inclined to anger	The bartender was a surly fellow who wasn't afraid to start a fight.
667	mandate	a formal statement of a command to do something	The president issued a mandate requiring all citizens to comply with new rules.
668	penitent	feeling or expressing remorse for misdeeds	He felt penitent for his actions and sought forgiveness.
669	dexterity	adroitness in using the hands	His dexterity with the piano impressed everyone at the concert.
670	fiscal	related to (government) money	Fiscal policy is how the government uses money to influence the economy.
671	irascible	quickly aroused to anger	The irascible man yelled at the slightest provocation.
672	predicament	A difficult situation, one that is hard to get out of	College basketball stars face the predicament of wanting to graduate but being tempted by high professional salaries.
673	repugnant	offensive to the mind	The repugnant odor from the garbage made her gag.
674	auspicious	favorable, indicative of good things	The tennis player considered the sunny forecast an auspicious sign that she would win her match.
675	incipient	only partly in existence; imperfectly formed	The incipient stage of the disease was hardly noticeable.
676	livid	furiously angry	His livid face revealed his intense anger.
677	opulent	characterized by rich abundance verging on ostentation	The opulent furnishings of the dictator's private compound contrasted harshly with the meager accommodations of her subjects.
678	overt	open and observable; not secret or hidden	His overt attempt to impress everyone was obvious to all.
679	confidant	someone to whom private matters are told	She confided in her trusted confidant about her personal struggles.
680	pacific	soothing	The chemistry professor's pacific demeanor helped the class remain calm after the experiment exploded.
681	perfidious	tending to betray	The perfidious traitor betrayed his comrades for personal gain.
682	lassitude	a feeling of lack of interest or energy	The long day left her feeling a sense of lassitude and weariness.
683	meticulous	marked by precise accordance with details	She was meticulous in organizing her files and keeping track of details.
684	prodigy	an unusually gifted or intelligent person	The child was a prodigy, displaying exceptional talent at an early age.
685	elusive	skillful at evading capture	The elusive bird was difficult to spot in the dense forest.
686	remiss	failing in what duty requires	His remiss handling of the situation caused unnecessary complications.
687	egregious	conspicuously and outrageously bad or reprehensible	His egregious behavior was condemned by everyone in the room.
688	tenuous	having little substance or strength	Your argument is very tenuous, since it relies so much on speculation and hearsay.
689	bashful	shy, excessively timid	Frankie's mother told him not to be bashful when he refused to attend the birthday party.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

690	grandiloquence	lofty, pompous language	The student thought her grandiloquence would make her sound smart, but neither the class nor the teacher bought it.
691	condolence	an expression of sympathy with another's grief	She expressed her condolences to the family after the loss.
692	temperance	moderation in action or thought	Maintaining temperance will ensure that you are able to think rationally and objectively.
693	solitary	Alone; without others.	The hermit lives a solitary existence deep in the mountains.
694	refute	overthrow by argument, evidence, or proof	He tried to refute the claims made against him in court.
695	nadir	the lowest point of anything	The stock market reached its nadir during the financial crisis.
696	atypical	not representative of a group, class, or type	His atypical behavior surprised everyone at the party.
697	strident	unpleasantly loud and harsh	The strident noise from the factory was unbearable.
698	alleviate	provide physical relief, as from pain	The medication helped alleviate her pain after the surgery.
699	resilient	able to recover from misfortune; able to withstand adversity	The resilient ballplayer quickly recovered from his wrist injury.
700	diatribe	thunderous verbal attack	The politician's diatribe against his opponent lasted for hours.
701	coalesce	To combine or grow together.	The people on the street eventually coalesced into a group.
702	perfunctory	hasty and without attention to detail; not thorough	His perfunctory apology didn't seem sincere.
703	astute	marked by practical hardheaded intelligence	Her astute observation helped solve the mystery quickly.
704	daunting	intimidating, causing one to lose courage	He kept delaying the daunting act of asking for a promotion.
705	morose	Gloomy, depressed.	The boy was morose after hearing he didn't make the football team.
706	implement	an instrument, utensil, tool	Do you have a knife or some other sort of implement that I could use to pry the lid off of this jar?
707	destitute	impoverished, utterly lacking	The hurricane destroyed many homes and left many families destitute.
708	annihilate	to destroy or cause devastating destruction	The dictator sent orders to annihilate the group of rebels.
709	ineffable	unspeakable, incapable of being expressed through words	It is said that the experience of playing with a dolphin is ineffable and can only be understood through direct encounter.
710	modify	cause to change; make different	They decided to modify the original plan to better suit the current circumstances.
711	reproach	express criticism towards	She reproached him for not fulfilling his promises.
712	longevity	the property of having lived for a considerable time	The longevity of the giant tortoise is remarkable, often living for over 100 years.
713	spontaneous	said or done without having been planned in advance	His spontaneous decision to go on a road trip was a refreshing break.
714	magnanimous	noble and generous in spirit	The magnanimous gesture of forgiveness touched everyone's heart.
715	pungent	strong and sharp to the sense of taste or smell	The pungent smell of garlic filled the kitchen.
716	ecstatic	intensely and overpoweringly happy	The couple was ecstatic when they learned that they had won the lottery.
717	undermine	to weaken or subvert (usu gradually or secretly)	Parents should take care not to constantly undermine their children.
718	infraction	a violation of a law or rule	The minor infraction was dismissed by the teacher.
719	scathing	sharp, critical, hurtful	Two hours after breaking up with Russell, Suzanne thought of the perfect scathing retort to his accusations.
720	vapid	lacking significance or liveliness or spirit or zest	The conversation turned vapid after hours of repetitive chatter.
721	haughty	disdainfully proud	The superstar's haughty dismissal of her costars will backfire on her someday.
722	facet	a distinct feature or element in a problem	The facet of the problem that concerned him the most was the budget.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

723	heterogeneous	consisting of elements not of the same kind or nature	The heterogeneous group of students came from many different backgrounds.
724	phlegmatic	showing little emotion	His phlegmatic demeanor made him seem indifferent to the situation.
725	abysmal	extremely bad	I got an abysmal grade on my research paper!
726	dissonance	lack of harmony or consistency	Though the president of the company often spoke of the company as reliant solely upon its workers, her decision to increase her own salary rather than reward her employees revealed a striking dissonance between her alleged beliefs and her actions.
727	acquisition	the act of gaining a skill or possession of something	Language acquisition is easier for kids than it is for adults.
728	incentive	A possible benefit that motivates a person to do a certain thing	This city's willingness to support its public schools gave us an incentive to move here with our two young children.
729	ardor	extreme vigor, energy, enthusiasm	The soldiers conveyed their ardor with impassioned battle cries.
730	clamor	loud noise	Each morning the birds outside my window make such a clamor that they wake me up.
731	wilt	To droop and become limp.	Plants will wilt if you don't water them regularly.
732	deplore	to feel or express sorrow, disapproval	We all deplored the miserable working conditions in the factory.
733	dissent	a difference of opinion	His dissent from the group's opinion caused tension.
734	forage	to graze, rummage for food	When we got lost on our hiking trip, we foraged for berries and nuts in order to survive.
735	adversary	someone who offers opposition	The two teams were fierce adversaries on the field.
736	frenetic	fast and energetic in an uncontrolled or wild way	The frenetic energy of the festival was infectious.
737	superficial	of, affecting, or being on or near the surface	The superficial layers of the issue were easy to address, but the core was complex.
738	delinquency	Serious misbehavior; not doing what one should do	Because of his laziness and delinquency, Lefty was an unreliable friend.
739	recalcitrant	defiant, unapologetic	Even when scolded, the recalcitrant young girl simply stomped her foot and refused to finish her lima beans.
740	indolent	disinclined to work or exertion	His indolent lifestyle caused him to neglect his responsibilities.
741	scandalous	morally offensive, often causing damage to one's reputation	The scandalous politician decided it was best to resign from office.
742	esoteric	understood by only a select few	Even the most advanced students cannot understand the physicist's esoteric theories.
743	squalid	run-down, sordid, or sleazy	The squalid cabin needed a new roof and an exterminator.
744	deride	treat or speak of with contempt	The comedian was known to deride the politicians during his shows.
745	inarticulate	incapable of expressing oneself clearly through speech	Though he spoke for over an hour, the lecturer was completely inarticulate and the students had no idea what he was talking about.
746	demeanor	the way a person behaves toward other people	His calm demeanor helped to ease the tension in the room.
747	desolate	bare, barren, empty	The moon is one giant, desolate landscape.
748	sentiment	a tender or moving gesture	Even though I'm not a big fan of porcelain dolls, I appreciated the sentiment.
749	cease	Stop	The lightning continued even after the thunder had ceased.
750	secrete	to produce or release (a substance)	Trees secrete a sticky substance called sap.
751	affinity	a spontaneous feeling of closeness	Jerry didn't know why, but he felt an incredible affinity for Kramer the first time they met.
752	expedient	appropriate to a purpose	The expedient decision was made in order to solve the immediate problem.
753	anticipate	assume to be likely to happen	The party was just as fun as I had anticipated it would be.
754	cordial	warm, affectionate	His cordial greeting melted my anger at once.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

755	adapt	to make suit a new purpose	The US has adapted many foreign foods to better suit the tastes of Americans.
756	counteract	to work in opposition to	This ingredient seems to counteract the other ones.
757	enumerate	to specify or count	I can't enumerate how many times I've had to remind my students when their papers are due.
758	delineation	a drawing of the outlines of forms or objects	The artist's delineation of the scene was both accurate and beautiful.
759	mentor	a wise and trusted guide and advisor	She became his mentor, guiding him through his career.
760	implacable	incapable of being appeased or pacified	Her implacable anger made it difficult for anyone to calm her down.
761	impertinent	rude, insolent	Most of your comments are so impertinent that I don't wish to dignify them with an answer.
762	tentative	not yet finalized	We haven't made any official arrangements yet, but the tentative location for our wedding is Hawaii.
763	incongruous	lacking in harmony or compatibility or appropriateness	The modern building looked incongruous among the ancient ruins.
764	coherent	logically consistent, intelligible	Renee could not figure out what Monroe had seen because he was too distraught to deliver a coherent statement.
765	artifice	the use of deception or trickery	The magician used artifice to amaze the audience with his tr
766	defile	to make unclean, impure	She defiled the calm of the religious building by playing her banjo.
767	contemporaneous	existing during the same time	Though her novels do not feature the themes of Romanticism, Jane Austen's work was contemporaneous with that of Wordsworth and Byron.
768	recede	To move back or away from	After the age of 30, his hairline began to recede further back from his forehead.
769	incoherent	without logical or meaningful connection	The speech was incoherent, and no one understood his main point.
770	chastise	to criticize severely	After being chastised by her peers for mimicking Britney Spears, Miranda dyed her hair black and affected a Gothic style.
771	kin	Relatives	Even though my uncle didn't really like me, he was kind to me because we were kin.
772	concur	happen simultaneously	I concur with your opinion on this matter.
773	anomaly	deviation from the normal or common order, form, or rule	The anomaly in the data puzzled the scientists.
774	incite	to encourage or stir up	Her hateful words incited anger in the crowd.
775	ornate	highly detailed and decorated	That ornate silverware must be worth thousands of dollars!
776	sovereign	having absolute authority in a certain realm	The sovereign queen, with steely resolve, ordered that the traitorous nobleman be killed.
777	prowess	extraordinary ability	The musician had never taken a guitar lesson in his life, making his prowess with the instrument even more incredible.
778	delegate	to hand over responsibility for something	The dean delegated the task of finding a new professor to a special hiring committee.
779	castigate	inflict severe punishment on	The teacher castigate the students for cheating on the exam.
780	initiate	set in motion, start an event or prepare the way for	They decided to initiate the project with a team meeting.
781	fluctuate	move or sway in a rising and falling or wavelike pattern	Stock prices tend to fluctuate based on market conditions.
782	negligent	habitually careless, neglectful	Jessie's grandfather called me a negligent fool after I left the door to his apartment unlocked even though there had been a recent string of robberies.
783	momentous	historically significant	Her win in the election was momentous.
784	lenient	demonstrating tolerance or gentleness	Because Professor Oglethorpe allowed his students to choose their final grades, the other teachers believed that he was excessively lenient.
785	tantamount	being essentially equal to something	His actions were tantamount to betrayal, and trust was broken.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

786	encore	the audience's demand for a repeat performance; also the artist's performance in response to that demand	At the end of the concert, all the fans yelled, "Encore! Encore!" but the band did not come out to play again.
787	vexatious	causing irritation or annoyance	The vexatious delay in the project caused much frustration among the team.
788	incontrovertible	impossible to deny or disprove	The evidence was incontrovertible, leaving no room for doubt.
789	innocuous	not injurious to physical or mental health	The innocuous comment was misunderstood as an insult.
790	disheartened	feeling a loss of spirit or morale	The team was disheartened after losing in the finals of the tournament.
791	orthodox	conventional, conforming to established protocol	The company's profits dwindled because the management pursued orthodox business policies that were incompatible with new industrial trends.
792	capacious	very spacious	The workers delighted in their new capacious office space.
793	discordant	not agreeing, not in harmony with	The girls' sobs were a discordant sound amid the general laughter that filled the restaurant.
794	cursory	hasty and without attention to detail; not thorough	He gave a cursory glance at the document before signing it.
795	dispel	to drive away, scatter	She entered the office as usual on Monday, dispelling the rumor that she had been fired.
796	preclude	make impossible, especially beforehand	His efforts to preclude any further delays were successful.
797	enigmatic	mystifying, cryptic	That man wearing the dark suit and dark glasses is so enigmatic that no one even knows his name.
798	allocate	to distribute, set aside	The Mayor allocated 30 percent of the funds for improving the town's schools.
799	laconic	brief and to the point	His laconic response left everyone puzzled.
800	prestige	Honor and respect for being better than the average	The Grassleys enjoyed the prestige of living in the historic town, but they did not feel at home there.
801	ardent	characterized by intense emotion	His ardent support for the cause inspired others to join.
802	vehemently	marked by intense force or emotion	The candidate vehemently opposed cutting back on Social Security funding.
803	debauch	to corrupt by means of sensual pleasures	An endless amount of good wine and cheese debauched the traveler.
804	pedagogue	someone who educates young people	The pedagogue explained the lesson with great clarity and patience.
805	equivocal	ambiguous, uncertain, undecided	His intentions were so equivocal that I didn't know whether he was being chivalrous or sleazy.
806	pervasive	having the tendency to spread throughout	Stepping off the plane in Havana, I recognized the pervasive odor of sugar cane fields on fire.
807	debase	to lower the quality or esteem of something	The large raise that he gave himself debased his motives for running the charity.
808	impervious	impenetrable, incapable of being affected	Because of their thick layer of fur, many seals are almost impervious to the cold.
809	aspire	have an ambitious plan or a lofty goal	He aspired to become a great scientist and make meaningful contributions.
810	diligent	showing care in doing one's work	The diligent researcher made sure to check her measurements multiple times.
811	antithesis	exact opposite	His opinion was the antithesis of mine, which made the debate intense.
812	domesticate	To make something suitable for being in a home	The Barnes family hoped to domesticate the tiger, but their neighbors were skeptical.
813	lucrative	producing a sizeable profit	The new company became lucrative, offering significant returns on investments.
814	underscore	to emphasize or give additional weight to	This sentence seems to underscore the overall meaning of the passage.
815	facade	the front of a building	The building's façade was grand and imposing, with large columns.
816	despondent	feeling depressed, discouraged, hopeless	Having failed the first math test, the despondent child saw no use in studying for the next and failed that one too.
817	indigent	poor enough to need help from others	The indigent man relied on the local shelter for food and warmth.
818	abate	to become less active, less intense, or less in amount	As I began my speech, my feelings of nervousness quickly abated.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

819	candid	openly straightforward and direct without secretiveness	She gave a candid response to the question, speaking from the heart.
820	boisterous	loud and full of energy	The candidate won the vote after giving several boisterous speeches on television.
821	salvation	rescuing or protecting someone or something from harm	The belief in salvation is central to many religious doctrines.
822	insidious	working or spreading in a hidden and usually injurious way	The insidious plan slowly took hold of the company.
823	annul	to make void or invalid	After seeing its unforeseen and catastrophic effects, Congress sought to annul the law.
824	vital	urgently necessary	It is vital that you respond by the deadline.
825	notorious	widely and unfavorably known	Jacob was notorious for always arriving late at parties.
826	appalled	struck with dread, shock, or dismay	She was appalled by the horrific scene she witnessed in the alley.
827	truncated	cut short in duration	The meeting was truncated when the fire alarm went off.
828	convention	an assembly of people	The hotel was full because of the cattle- ranchers' convention.
829	adherent	someone who believes and helps to spread a doctrine	The adherent of the philosophy argued passionately for its merits.
830	ameliorate	make better	His goal was to ameliorate the situation, not make it worse.
831	conduct	to control or manage	The group conducted their research abroad last year.
832	imperceptible	impossible or difficult to sense	The change in temperature was imperceptible to most people.
833	component	one of the individual parts making up a larger entity	The component parts of the machine were all laid out for assembly.
834	constituent	an essential part	The most important constituent of her perfume is something called ambergris.
835	duplicity	the act of deceiving or acting in bad faith	The politician's duplicity was exposed in the press.
836	exploit	use or manipulate to one's advantage	He attempted to exploit the situation for his personal gain.
837	exonerate	pronounce not guilty of criminal charges	The innocent man was exonerated after new evidence was discovered.
838	exclusive	Keeping out all but a few people	The most exclusive universities accept only a small percentage of people who want to attend.
839	ambiguous	having more than one possible meaning	The meaning of his ambiguous statement was unclear.
840	authenticity	the quality of being real and true instead of fake and contrived	The police officer doubted the authenticity of the suspect's story.
841	constitute	to form or compose (part of) something	The desire for equality constituted the civil rights movement.
842	querulous	whiny, complaining	If deprived of his pacifier, young Brendan becomes querulous.
843	iconoclast	someone who attacks cherished ideas or institutions	The iconoclast challenged the traditional views on art and religion.
844	congruity	the quality of being in agreement	Bill and Veronica achieved a perfect congruity of opinion.
845	grotesque	distorted and unnatural in shape or size	The grotesque statue in the gallery shocked visitors with its bizarre shape.
846	flaw	A feature that ruins the perfection of something.	I got the diamond for a reduced price since the stone had a flaw.
847	detriment	a damage or loss	The war had a detrimental impact on the country's economy.
848	inherent	existing as an essential constituent or characteristic	His love for art was inherent, passed down through generations.
849	reciprocate	to give in return	When Steve gave Samantha a sweater for Christmas, she reciprocated by giving him a kiss.
850	allege	to assert, usually without proof	The policeman had alleged that Marshall committed the crime, but after the investigation turned up no evidence, Marshall was set free.
851	factitious	not produced by natural forces; artificial or fake	The factory produced a factitious version of the luxury product.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

852	aesthetic	relating to beauty or refined taste	The aesthetic decorations at the wedding reception made you feel as if you were a character in a fairy tale.
853	wholly	Completely.	The monk is wholly devoted to his faith.
854	enthral	to charm, hold spellbound	The sailor's stories of fighting off sharks and finding ancient treasures enthralled his young son.
855	parsimonious	excessively unwilling to spend	He was known for his parsimonious nature, always reluctant to spend.
856	evanescent	short-lived; tending to vanish or disappear	The evanescent beauty of the sunset left everyone in awe.
857	deliberate	intentional, reflecting careful consideration	Though Mary was quite upset, her actions to resolve the dispute were deliberate.
858	pathology	a deviation from the normal	Dr. Hastings had difficulty identifying the precise nature of Brian's pathology.
859	manifold	many and varied; having many features or forms	The manifold solutions to the problem were discussed in detail.
860	jubilant	full of high-spirited delight	The jubilant crowd cheered as their team won the championship.
861	vicarious	experiencing through another	All of my lame friends learned to be social through vicarious involvement in my amazing experiences.
862	cumbersome	difficult to handle or use, especially because of size or weight	The cumbersome package was difficult to carry across the room.
863	rappro	mutual understanding and harmony	When Margaret met her paramour, they felt an instant rappro.
864	boon	a gift or blessing	The good weather has been a boon for many businesses located near the beach.
865	iniquity	absence of moral or spiritual values	The iniquity of his actions could not be ignored.
866	incorrigible	incapable of correction, delinquent	You can buy Grandma nicotine gum all you want, but I think that after sixty-five years of smoking she's incorrigible.
867	integrity	Personal honesty and good character	We don't have a problem with our employees stealing from the store because we hire only people with a lot of integrity.
868	coronation	the act of crowning	The new king's coronation occurred the day after his father's death.
869	epitome	a standard or typical example	She was the epitome of grace, always poised and elegant.
870	eccentric	peculiar or odd; deviating from the norm	She's a little eccentric but still fun to be around.
871	fervent	ardent, passionate	The fervent protestors chained themselves to the building and shouted all night long.
872	loathe	dislike intensely; feel disgust toward	I loathe waking up early on weekends.
873	obsequious	attempting to win favor from influential people by flattery	The obsequious servant did everything his master asked without question.
874	inundate	fill or cover completely, usually with water	The river began to inundate the town after the heavy rain.
875	tangible	perceptible by the senses, especially the sense of touch	The evidence against him was tangible, making the case stronger.
876	inhibition	the action of forbidding	The inhibition of the criminal's freedom was due to his actions.
877	sparingly	insufficiently, meagerly, or in a restricted manner	Due to my condition, I must eat salt sparingly.
878	precede	To come before.	The flower girls preceded the bride when they walked down the aisle.
879	surmount	to get on top of or overcome	They managed to surmount the language barrier by using a translation app.
880	mollify	cause to be more favorably inclined	The manager sought to mollify the angry customers with a discount.
881	assertion	a strong declaration	His assertion that sharks are mammals made everyone laugh.
882	delve	turn up, loosen, or remove earth	She wanted to delve deeper into the subject of quantum physics.
883	compress	to apply pressure, squeeze together	Lynn compressed her lips into a frown.
884	accolade	high praise, special distinction	Everyone offered accolades to Sam after he won the Noble Prize.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

885	banal	repeated too often; overfamiliar through overuse	The banal conversation was filled with clichés and empty statements.
886	escalation	an increase or intensification	The escalation of the conflict led to widespread violence.
887	onerous	burdensome	My parents lamented that the pleasures of living in a beautiful country estate no longer outweighed the onerous mortgage payments.
888	erode	To wear away and become smaller	People's respect for the government eroded as more officials were arrested for corruption.
889	harrowing	greatly distressing, vexing	The car crash was a harrowing experience, but I have a feeling that the increase in my insurance premiums will be even more upsetting.
890	susceptible	yielding readily to or capable of	The child was more susceptible to illness during the colder months.
891	adverse	in an opposing direction	The adverse weather conditions caused the flight to be delayed.
892	exert	to put into use (usu as effort)	Don't exert all of your energy at once.
893	oscillate	to sway from one side to the other	My uncle oscillated between buying a station wagon to transport his family and buying a sports car to satisfy his boyhood fantasies.
894	annex	to incorporate territory or space	After defeating them in battle, the Russians annexed Poland.
895	subsequently	happening later or after something	I subsequently went home.
896	aerial	somehow related to the air	We watched as the fighter planes conducted aerial maneuvers.
897	disciple	one who believes and helps spread the doctrine of another	She became a disciple of the great philosopher, following his teachings.
898	bequeath	to pass on, give	Jon's father bequeathed his entire estate to his mother.
899	subtle	hard to detect or analyze	I detected in her expression a subtle hint of irritation.
900	delineate	to describe, outline, shed light on	She neatly delineated her reasons for canceling the project's funding.
901	tacit	implied by or inferred from actions or statements	The tacit agreement between the two was understood without words.
902	precocious	characterized by exceptionally early development	The precocious child could read before she was three.
903	insinuate	to suggest indirectly or subtly	I wish Luke and Spencer would stop insinuating that my perfect report card is the result of anything other than my superior intelligence and good work habits.
904	controversial	marked by or capable of causing disagreement	The controversial decision sparked heated debates across the nation.
905	cunning	sly, clever at being deceitful	The general devised a cunning plan to surprise the enemy.
906	profound	situated at or extending to great depth	His profound knowledge of history impressed everyone in the room.
907	derogatory	expressive of low opinion	The politician made several derogatory remarks about his opponent.
908	laudatory	expressing admiration or praise	Such laudatory comments are unusual from someone who is usually so reserved in his opinions.
909	homogenous	all of the same or similar kind or nature	The homogenous nature of the group made it difficult to introduce new ideas.
910	null	legally void and ineffective	The government declared their marriage null.
911	paternal	Relating to a father	My mother's parents have both died, but my paternal grandparents are still alive.
912	superfluous	more than is needed, desired, or required	His arguments were based on superfluous details that did not strengthen his case.
913	relish	to enjoy	Pete always relished his bedtime snack.
914	inert	unable to move or resist motion	The inert object lay motionless on the table.
915	excruciating	extremely painful	The pain from the injury was excruciating and unbearable.
916	hiatus	a break or gap in duration or continuity	The hiatus in service should last two or three months—until the cable lines are repaired .

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

917	rectitude	uprightness, extreme morality	The priest's rectitude gave him the moral authority to counsel his parishioners.
918	allegedly	According to what people say	The chief financial officer of the company allegedly took company money for his personal use.
919	emissary	someone sent to represent another's interests	The emissary delivered the king's message to the neighboring kingdom.
920	nepotism	favoritism shown to relatives or friends by those in power	The company was accused of nepotism after hiring only family members.
921	emulate	strive to equal or match, especially by imitating	She admired her mentor and sought to emulate her work.
922	bliss	a state of extreme happiness	The children played in bliss, unaware of the troubles outside.
923	laudable	worthy of high praise	Her efforts to help the community were laudable and inspiring.
924	depravity	wickedness	Rumors of the ogre's depravity made the children afraid to enter the forest.
925	mortality	the quality or state of being subject to death	The mortality rate in the region decreased significantly over the years.
926	renounce	to give up (usu power or a position)	Our CEO renounced her position yesterday.
927	devious	not straightforward, deceitful	Not wanting to be punished, the devious girl blamed the broken vase on the cat.
928	contort	twist and press out of shape	She contorted her face in disgust after tasting the sour food.
929	decipher	To figure out the meaning, even though it is written in a code or an unknown language	The Rosetta Stone helped archaeologists decipher ancient Egyptian writing.
930	ambitious	having a powerful desire for success or achievement	Penny is so ambitious, she wants to be president someday.
931	reprimand	an act or expression of criticism and censure	The teacher had to reprimand the student for his behavior.
932	incarnate	existing in the flesh, embodied	In the church pageant, I play the role of greed incarnate.
933	unsavory	morally offensive	The unsavory character in the story caused trouble for the protagonist.
934	conviction	a firm belief in something	Her religious convictions prevent her from eating meat.
935	copious	profuse, abundant	Copious amounts of Snapple were imbibed in the cafeteria.
936	obese	excessively large	The doctor was concerned about his patient's obese condition.
937	catastrophic	extremely harmful; bringing physical or financial ruin	The catastrophic earthquake left the city in ruins.
938	egotist	a conceited and self-centered person	The egotist was always talking about his own achievements.
939	ruminate	reflect deeply on a subject	He began to ruminate on the events of the day, considering their meaning.
940	mendacious	given to lying	His mendacious statements caused people to lose trust in him.
941	hostile	characterized by enmity or ill will	The hostile environment made it difficult for the team to collaborate.
942	duress	compulsory force or threat	He signed the confession under duress, fearing for his safety.
943	demarcation	the marking of boundaries or categories	Different cultures have different demarcations of good and evil.
944	fidelity	loyalty, devotion	Guard dogs are known for the great fidelity they show toward their masters.
945	hazardous	Full of risk.	The nuclear reactor has a lot of hazardous waste.
946	complacent	contented to a fault with oneself or one's actions	He remained complacent despite the growing problems around him.
947	luminous	brightly shining	The light of the luminous moon graced the shoulders of the beautiful maiden.
948	evoke	to draw forth or call up	Horror movies are great at evoking fear.
949	endure	to withstand, sustain, or hold out against	I can't endure this wait any longer. Will Stanford accept or reject me?
950	aggrieved	distressed, wronged, injured	The foreman mercilessly overworked his aggrieved employees.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

951	resolute	firm, determined	With a resolute glint in her eye, Catherine announced that she was set on going to college in New York City even though she was a little frightened of tall buildings.
952	manifest	clearly revealed to the mind or the senses or judgment	His success was a manifest result of his hard work.
953	condescend	behave in a patronizing manner	He condescended to answer the question, despite his reluctance.
954	frugal	avoiding waste	She lived a frugal life, always avoiding unnecessary expenses.
955	neutralize	make ineffective by counterbalancing the effect of	The neutralizer helped to diminish the effects of the toxin.
956	brusque	short, abrupt, dismissive	The captain's brusque manner offended the passengers.
957	elucidate	make clear and comprehensible	The teacher asked him to elucidate his reasoning behind the decision.
958	assimilate	To consume and incorporate; to become similar	Not all of the overseas students could assimilate into the rigidly controlled school.
959	civil	Involving a dispute between two citizens, not a criminal charge	In a civil suit against his neighbor, Barney claimed that the neighbor's dog had bitten him.
960	Paradigm	A pattern or model; a set of assumptions	The usual paradigm for economic growth in developed countries does not apply to some poor nations.
961	flagrant	conspicuously and outrageously bad or reprehensible	His flagrant disregard for the rules led to his suspension.
962	interject	speak abruptly, especially as an interruption	She quickly interjected when the conversation went off track.
963	unkempt	not properly maintained or cared for	His unkempt appearance suggested he had not cared for his hygiene.
964	imminent	close in time; about to occur	The imminent storm forced us to seek shelter.
965	ostentatious	intended to attract notice and impress others	His ostentatious display of wealth was meant to impress everyone.
966	facilitate	to aid the progress of	In grad school, advisors facilitate students' research and offer constructive criticism.
967	fastidious	giving careful attention to detail	She was fastidious in her attention to detail, checking every aspect.
968	destitution	a state without money or prospects	The man lived in destitution, without food or shelter.
969	hapless	unfortunate and deserving pity	The hapless traveler missed his flight because of a delay.
970	assess	To estimate the value of something	The Barnes building was assessed at $1.3 million, but it can proba- bly sell for much more than that.
971	potential	existing in possibility	The potential for growth in the new market is promising.
972	precipitate	bring about abruptly	The sudden precipitation of the weather caught everyone by surprise.
973	inevitable	incapable of being avoided or prevented	The storm was inevitable, and there was nothing they could do to prevent it.
974	nomadic	relating to persons or groups who travel in search of food or work	His nomadic lifestyle involved traveling from place to place.
975	invasive	Intrusive.	We found the stranger's questions too personal and very invasive.
976	assuage	to ease, pacify	The mother held the baby to assuage its fears.
977	retention	the act of keeping something	Water retention can make you weigh more on certain days.
978	hazardous	Dangerous	Parents have to be careful not to buy children's clothes and toys made of hazardous materials.
979	vial	A small container used to hold liquids.	The chemist carefully filled the vial with the bubbling solution.
980	austere	of a stern or strict bearing or demeanor	The austere design of the room made it feel cold and uninviting.
981	alias	a false name or identity	He snuck past the guards by using an alias and fake ID.
982	augment	enlarge or increase	The company plans to augment its workforce to meet the growing demand.
983	indignation	anger sparked by something unjust or unfair	I resigned from the sorority because of my indignation at its hazing of new members.
984	bourgeois	a middle-class person, capitalist	Many businessmen receive criticism for their bourgeois approach to life.

AE2 1000 Vocabulary

985	decorous	socially proper, appropriate	The appreciative guest displayed decorous behavior toward his host.
986	allude	make an indirect reference to	She alluded to her past experiences without directly mentioning them.
987	validate	to prove or declare valid	Your selfish actions do not validate your feelings for me.
988	ferment	cause to undergo the breakdown of sugar into alcohol	The ferment of the workers' protests led to significant political change.
989	indigenous	originating where it is found	The indigenous people of the island have lived there for centuries.
990	intrepid	invulnerable to fear or intimidation	The intrepid explorer trekked through the jungle alone.
991	penchant	a strong liking or preference	He had a strong penchant for collecting rare stamps.
992	bestow	To give as a gift.	The medal was bestowed upon him by the president.
993	subsequent	Coming after something in time.	The first king was a good ruler, but subsequent kings have all been corrupt.
994	deplorable	of very poor quality or condition	The deplorable living conditions of the refugees were heartbreaking.
995	persevere	be persistent, refuse to stop	She decided to persevere despite the many obstacles in her path.
996	interrogate	pose a series of questions to	The detective was determined to interrogate the suspect thoroughly.
997	convey	to pass on or transfer (information)	I have trouble conveying my thoughts in French.
998	fundamental	the most essential or most basic part	A thesis is arguably the most fundamental part of an essay.
999	docile	easily handled or managed	The docile dog followed its owner obediently.
1000	enigma	something that baffles understanding and cannot be explained	The mystery surrounding the disappearance of the treasure was an enigma.